

Blueback Reservoir, renowned geoscience solutions partner, changes its name to Cegal

(Stavanger, Norway 1 June 2015) Following the merger with Cegal, announced in August 2014, Blueback Reservoir is pleased to announce that we will go forth under the Cegal name and logo. Together we aim to fill the gap between E&P and IT by combining the expertise within geoscience and IT solutions.

"Together with our 330 employees represented throughout major oil hubs globally, and with our unique combination of IT and geoscience domain expertise, we are now set to establish a position under the Cegal brand as the most innovative provider of IT services and Geoscience Solutions to the global oil and gas industry" says Pål Hovdenak, CEO of Blueback Reservoir.

Blueback Reservoir is a renowned geoscience solutions partner, and Cegal is a leading provider of IT solutions to the oil and gas industry. Over the last nine months the companies have established common offices in Stavanger and Oslo, and have together opened an office in i2 Business Centre in Aberdeen, UK. Going forward, the current and combined product portfolio will be brought to the market under the Cegal brand. With first roll out in Norway, Blueback Reservoir`s subsidiaries in Houston, London, Calgary and Dubai are in the process of changing the company name.

The companies have passed an important milestone and is present as one company at the EAGE 77th Annual Conference and Exhibition, 1 - 4 June, in Madrid, Spain.

Now we will pursue the opportunities ahead together, and we are looking forward to continue the growth and to expand the offerings to the market.
