

Cegal awarded contract with VNG Norge

Stavanger 22 June 2016: Competing with other technology companies, Cegal has been awarded a contract for providing IT operation services.

«In the market we see today, contracts like the one we have just been awarded by VNG Norge are rare. VNG Norge has a strong focus on the Norwegian Continental shelf, and we are happy for the recognition this award represents, and to be able to join VNG Norge on their journey. We appreciate the trust VNG Norge has shown us, and believe it is a signal of Cegal being a provider of services that create value at competitive terms,» says Poul Erik Jensen, Regional Manager in Cegal AS.

The agreement includes operation of all VNG Norge`s IT systems, hereunder a range of petro-technical applications. After the merger with Blueback Reservoir AS in 2014, Cegal has gained a unique position with strong geoscience expertise combined with cost efficient and innovative IT solutions.

VNG Norge has a strong presence on the Norwegian Continental Shelf, and will during 2016 make the decision of concept selection for developing the Pil and Bue discovery on the Halten Terrace in the Norwegian Sea. The company is a subsidiary of VNG AG, one of Germany`s leading importers and wholesalers of natural gas.

«VNG Norge has conducted a thorough process, and have high standards and expectations toward us as a partner. We are confident that our services combined with highly skilled employees will provide VNG Norge a solution which will meet their expectations. We are looking forward to start the collaboration, » Jensen concludes.
